To

States Secretaries of Rural Development (As per list...)

Subject: Ruraldiksha.nic.in - List of Training Institutions awaiting of State Government Authorization.

The Ministry of Rural Development has launched a web portal ruraldiksha.nic.in, which deals specifically with Training Scheme and Lab-to-Land Initiative of the Ministry. One of the utilities available on the portal is the facility for the training institutions in the States to register themselves pending authorization from State Governments. Accordingly a few institutions have applied for authorization by the State Government. Considering the large number of RD functionaries and PRI members as well as the Bharat Nirman Volunteers and members of community who are required to be trained in each State, it may be necessary to involve these training institutions keeping in view their background and training capabilities and proven track record. You may like to associate them with training activities planned in the States after checking their antecedents and capabilities. As these Organizations have already applied for registration and authorization by the State Government, it is requested that the needful may be done latest by 15.01.12 to accord State Government authorization to those considered eligible in your State. The list of Institutions who have applied for registration in your State is enclosed.

Yours faithfully,

(Niten Chandra)
